Karin Stein and René Devia of Colombia, and Edgar East of Panama, are the members of Los Llaneros. The music is filled with intricate rhythmic exchanges among the instruments and virtuoso techniques, and the themes of the songs revolve around love, nature, and the simple yet rich life of the people of the Colombian-Venezuelan grasslands.

Los Llaneros feature renowned harpist and composer René Devia, who has been the recipient of numerous awards and tributes in his native Colombia, as well as the gifted voice of the blond and blue-eyed Llanera, Karin Stein. Multi-instrumentalist and maraca specialist Edgar East puts his finishing touches on the performances, adding flash and flair to the ensemble.

The music of the Llanos or savannas is rarely performed outside of the area. This will be an opportunity to experience a joyful, gorgeous style of folk music performed in an authentic manner by true Llaneros.
